

Date: December 8, 2008

Time: 1:00pm—8:30pm

Carnegie Mellon University
University Center
Rangos Hall (second level)

Parking is available in the East Campus Garage (along
Forbes between Morewood and Beeler)

AIChE-Pittsburgh

Carnegie Mellon
Chemical Engineering

Inquiries about the event
should be addressed to the organizing committee at aiche.anniversary@yahoo.com

Celebrate AIChE's Centennial

- Why an AIChE?
- What's the future for chemical engineering and the profession?

The summer of 1908 marked the founding of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. The first national technical meeting of AIChE was held later that year—December 28 and 29—at the Carnegie Technical Schools, now Carnegie Mellon University. This symposium commemorates the 100th anniversary of that first meeting and is the final event of a year-long celebration. Industry, academic and government leaders will explore the past, present and future of our profession. The symposium will include a forum on today's role of professional societies in meeting the needs of the individual chemical engineer, the profession and society.

Schedule of events

- 10:30-1:00 Registration, tours of new research labs
- 1:00 Welcome
Dale L. Keairns, AIChE President, Technical Fellow, SAIC
Professor Andy Gellman, Chair Chemical Engineering, CMU
- 1:15 "Boundary Work and Boundary Spanning—the AIChE in Historical Perspective"
Professor David Hounshell, Technology and Social Change, CMU
- 1:45 "Today's Initiatives"
John Sofranko, AIChE Executive Director: 2001 to 2009
- 2:15 "Inter-generational Dynamics—Influencing the Future"
Dr. Dee Giffin Flaherty, Consultant, Leadership and Change
Hank Kohlbrand, AIChE President-Elect for 2010, Global R&D Director, Dow Chemical Co.
- 3:15 Break
- 4:00 "Inter-generational Dynamics" continued
- 4:30 "The Year Ahead"
Professor Scott Fogler, AIChE 2009 President, Chemical Engineering, University of Michigan
- 5:00 "AIChE - Path Forward"
June Wispelwey, AIChE Executive Director: beginning 2009
- 5:30 Break
- 6:00 "The Changing Discipline of Chemical Engineering"
Professor Bob Armstrong, Chemical Engineering, MIT
- 6:30 Break
- 7:00 Dinner
- 8:15 Paper Highlight from 1908 and Closing comments

Registration

The registration fee for the event is $75 ($25 for students). Please register before December 1, 2008 by sending your name, organization, address, phone number, e-mail address and choice of dinner entrée (Roma Chicken, Beef Tenderloin, or Stuffed Eggplant Fillet) and check (Payable to AIChE-Pittsburgh) to:

AIChE Anniversary Event
c/o Janet Latini
Department of Chemical Engineering, DH1107
5000 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15213